Brooklyns Twice Lead the Chiesgos, but Are Finally Beaten-A Twelve-Inning Tie finme Between the Besten and Cleve-land Cinbs-Other Eastern Teams Wis.

The Louisvilles played a stubborn game against the New Yorks restorday. During the early innings the local players secured a com-manding lead, which the tail-enders cut down considerably, but the rally was checked in time to avoid a defeat for the New Yorks. There were many ups and downs in the game at East-ern Park which Anson's colts finally clinched. With Breitenstein opposed to them, the Quakers scored a victory over St. Louis. The game at Baltimore was won by the Orioles, and it brought Cincinnati back to second place. The Pittsburghs also went back one notch, as they were downed by the Washingtons. Boston and Cleveland battled for twelve funings, the game then being called on account of darkness. The

NEW YORK, 9; LOUISVILLE, 7. Louisvilles, under the management of Billy McGunnigle, made their first appearance of the season at the Polo grounds yesterday, and, though they were defeated, they made the New Yorks fight hard for the game. A few bungling errors with men on bases and several timely hits enabled the New Yorks to score enough runs to win. Their batting, however, was far below the standard, considering the calibre of both Hill and Cunningham, who faced them, Young Doheny, with the exception of one inning, pitched excellent ball. He has learned the art of control and is improving with every game, Wilson caught him to perfection, his throwing to bases again being the feature. The infield, even with Farrell at short, played cleanly, and the whole team showed plenty of

After the Louisvilles had been retired in order in the first inning, the New Yorks accred twice, aided by two errors of Clingman. Van Haltren beat out his slow grounder to Cassidy and reached second on Clingman's low throw to O'Brien of G. Davis's bounder. Tiernan bunted, and as Clingman hurled the ball to the right-field seats. Van and Davis scored, and Mike hustled ail the way to third, where he was left, as the next three batsmen put up files for Cassidy. Miller opened the second inning with a drive past Farrell for a base, but he was nipped by Wilson's fine throw when he tried to steal. In New York's half H. Davis received four balls and reached second on Wilson's disyer sacrifice, but he was left.

Doheny had the visitors under his thumb in the third inning, while the New Yorks added three tailies to their total. G. Davis went to first on four balls, Tiernan sent a fly to McCreary, Gleason shot a double to right, and on Farrell's base hit George and the Castalin crossed the rubber. Casaidy muffed Hill's throw to catch Farrell off first, and Charley galloped to third, sorring on Clark's fly to Dexter. H. Davis walked to first on balls. Wilson bunted safely and stole second, and then Doheny brought both in with a corking single to left. Eddie ran to third on Miller's poor throw to second, but was left, as Van Haltren struck out.

The Louisvilles broke the ice in the fourth inning by rolling up five runs. Clingman singled to right and second to third on Wilson's low throw to centre field. He scored on McCreary's safe bunt, the latter getting to third on two outs. Doheny then gave four balls to O'Brien, and Cassidy put Jack on third with a single to right, A wild pitch let O'Brien come in, and Farrell's muff of Dexter's fly allowed Cassidy to count, too. Shannon put up a liythat dropped safely just inside the right four line. While Tiernan, Glesson, and Clark were trying to decide who should take it. Dexter ran to third, and in ally scored the fifth run while Shannon was being run down between first and geome.

Accreary, the first man up in the eighth inning, drove a fly to left that was misjudged by H. Davis, and the runner got to third. The next two men went out on infield hits, but O'lirien got a base on balls. Jack tried to steal, and before McCreary could get to the plate Farrell put the bail on O'Brien, and the run did not count. For New York, G. Davis sent a liner to Clingman. Tiernan smashed a great drive to left, but he was interfered with by O'Brien at second, and that enabled Charke to throw him out at third, dieason got a life on Shannon's fumble, stele second, and scored on Farrell's single, on which the latter was caught between the last less than the latter was caught between single, on which the latter was caught between first and second.

In the last inning Cassidy opened with a base on balls, but he was caught napping by Wilson's quick throw to Clark, just as Dexter struck out. Then Doheny gave four balls to Shannon and Cunningham, and Clingman hit the first ball pitched for what looked like a home run. Yan Haltren, however, was awake and, though he muffed the ball while on the dead run, he prevented more than one run being scored. Dohenythen pulled himself together and struck McCreary out, ending the game. The score:

While the game at Eastern Park yesterday was not an exhibition over which people would gave, it was exciting enough to keep every one guessing. At the beginning it looked as though the Brooklyns would have no trouble in winning but matters took a sudden change in the third inning, when Jones muffed a fly, which if eaught, would have retired the side. Decker then slammed the ball to the ropes for a home run, and when the luning was over Stein was sent to the dreasing room. Payne, who relieved sidn, fielded his position well, but his slow curves were easy. There was another ray of sunshine when the homing, but Corcoran and Shundle failed to stop an easy bounder in the sighth inning, and the Chicagos counted the whining runs, in the soventh inning furrill sent a single to centre, and Corcoran, who was on second, was blocked at third base by Everett, A collision followed, and the Chicago man resocived a cut thiow the eye. George Miller caught a rattling good game for Louisville yesterday and made things lively with his fognore ceaching.

Manager McGunnigle does not believe in sitting down while his men are at the but. Yesterday he was constantly on his feet telling the Kentuckians what to do. The Louisville teem to-day is by no means weak, outside of the box, and there are several most promising pitchers on the payroil at that.

several most promising pitchers on the payroil at that.

This is the day on which the ball tossers of fice Seventh Regiment to to west Point to willop the Geventh Regiment to to see Point to willop the cadets, or attempt to do so. As usual, the game will be made one of the features of the year. The New Yorkers go in two special trains on the West Shore. Boats will leave the foot of Franklin street at 1 clock and the foot of West Forty-second street at 1 15 o'clock. Aside from the usual crowd of men belonging to the regiment there will be a number of ladies, for whom there will be special cars. Col. Applied and his staff go along as guest of the Athletic Association. A party of twenty-six regular army officers. Including Major-den. Huger and his staff, will also be in the party, also Adjt. Gen. McAlpin and Brig. Gen. McLewee. After the game there will be a dress parade for the New Yorkers, who will be able to get back to the city by 7.30 o'clock. The Seventh's team is as follows: Carey, center field mack, right field; Cadmus, left, field; Donnelly, short stop; Colt, Young, or Curry, first base; Burney, second hase; Booney, third base; Dissoway, pitcher; Dullard or Allen, eatcher; Norton, Murray, and Wessels, substitutes, Capit. Thurston of the Twenty-second Regiment will be umpire.

SANDS NOW EVEN WITH TOLER. The St. Andrew's Amateur Winner of the Special Match. W. H. Sands evened up matters with Henry P. Toler yesterday for the defeat he suffered a Knollwood by beating the Baltusrol Golf Club champion by six up and five to play. The con test was a thirty-six-hole match for a gold medal. Tom Gourley, the Baltusrol profes-sional, carried for Toler, and Sam Tucker filled the same office for the St. Andrew's man. Among the onlookers was a delegation from Baltusrol, headed by Hugh Toler and Beverly Ward, Jr. James Swan was referee.

Toler spoiled the first three drives by pressing, the holes falling to Sands. The Baltusrol man played better to the end of the round, making the long hole in seven and having the match all square at that point. Sands was very strong on the next nine holes, scoring them in 41 and securing a lead of six up and virtually winning the match. Good luck favored him somewhat. His brassey play on the long hole going straight in the face of the bunker, but instead of being trapped the ball struck a rock and bounded over close to the green. Toler on the fourth hole carried the wail, but the ball rebounded from a rock into an unplayable position.

In the first round in the afternoon Toler cut Sandis's lead down to five, but he could not overcome the pronounced lead. The bye holes were played out, Sands gaining an extra hole from the five. Each time the St. Andrew's man drove for the third hole his ball was caught in the quarry, yet the lies were so good he was down in four every time. It was his first match, the other records in his career having been made in tournaments. Toler had the disadvantage of meeting Sands on his home green, and, although defeated, made a good performance. By strokes the scores were: the match. Good luck favored him somewhat, the acores were: W. H. Sands Sands's total beats the old record for thirty-six hoise of 180, made by himself when he wen the John Reid medal on Nov. 5. A two green foursons at St. Andrew's and Haltusrol has been arranged between Mr. Sands and Sam Tucker against Mr. Toler and Tom Gourley.

GREAT ECLIPSE TO-DAY. CRACK TWO-YEAR-OLDS TO MEET

AT MORRIS PARK.

Clifford and Reeson Will Also Run in the Memorial Handleap-Hastings Named for the Toboggan Handleap Other Events. The programme for Morris Park to-day is of sufficient richness to attract every man or woman with a love for the race horse. There are three stakes on the programme, the Tobog-gan and Memorial handicaps and the Eclipse Stakes for two-year-olds. The Eclipse will be worth $5,000, and it will bring out the pick of the two-year-olds now in training, including the Blemton stable's great colt Don De Oro, Matt Byrnes's Salvado, Marcus Daly's Cocker-nony and Scottish Chieftain, J. R. and F. P. Keene's Horoscope, Charles Fleischmann's Hap-hazard, J. J. McCafferty's Dr. Shepard, W. A. Chanler's Caldron, Charles H. Smith's Domitor, the Stockwell stable's Challenger, and Augustus Clason's Fortune.

The two-year-olds which have appeared so far this season have not shown phenomenal form, but there may be something in to-day's bunch capable of beating the others away off. When colts beat each other a head or a neck and finish closely together there is nothing exraordinary in their form, but when one or two beat the others as Tremont, El Rio Rey, Domino, Dobbins, and others of that stripe used to, then horsemen know they have something be-Eclipse Stakes to-day Don De Oro cer-tainly looks the best of those that have appeared in public, as he won his race much more handily than Haphazard, Domitor, Horocope, and Challenger, all of which have earned brackets. Salvador, however, is spoken of in the highest terms, and his work last fall at Morris Park was so meritorious that he was regarded as a most promising candidate for the big stakes of this season. McCafferty's colt is said to be a good one, but the quality of the Daly pair is problematical, both having received their preparation at Sheepshead Hay, away from the eyes of the talent.

While the field for the Memorial Handicap consists of but three horses, it will no doubt excite more interest than the Toboggan, or perhaps any other race on the programme, as Clifford and Keenan will meet on a dry track, with Belmar to set the pace for them. There are good judges in this town who think that the mud beat Keenan on Thursday, and they will back the big chestnut in to-day's race. There are others, however, who regard Clifford as absolutely the best horse in training at present, and think that he has the Brooklyn Handicap as good as won.

and think that he has the Brooklyn Handicap as good as won.
Hastings is among the candidates named to start in the Tobeggan, the race being in a measure work for the Helmont Stakes on Tuesday next, and he will probably have a horse to work on with him after the finish to-day. The big three-year-old abould have no difficulty in disposing of Heidemere and the others he is asked to beat, as speed is his forte, and 114 pounds will not stop him.
The balance of the programme, which consists of seven races, is quite the best of the meeting. Entries in full follow:

GOOD SPORT AT PARKWAY. Bill Daly's Ida Jefferson the Only Straight Heat Winner,

The followers of trotting saw some good sport yesterday at the opening of the Parkway Driv-ing Club's spring meeting, close finishes and divided heats resulting in two of the three races on the card. Father Bill Daly's black mare Ida Jefferson won with case in the 2:26 class, defeating a field of eight in straight heats, but both of the other events were hotly contested from start to finish. Daly's winner is well known on the road in Brooklyn and New York, her owner baving driven her to and from Morris Park and the other race tracks during the racing season for two or three years past. She is evidently able to beat 2:20 on a mile track, and looks like the making of a high-class campaigner. Her record dropped two seconds in the opening heat. Daly says she was bred by William B. Smith of Hartford and that her grandam was the thoroughbred mare Irene. Cyclone Wilkes and Sage P. away outclassed the other starters in the 2:50 race, and they Cyclone Wilkes and Sage P. away outclassed the other starters in the 2:50 race, and they were the contending horses after the first heat, all of the others being distanced in the third round. All of the finishes were exceedingly close, but Cyclone Wilkes outlasted the other horse at last, winning a hard-fought race and a record of 2:27. Little is known about his antecedents, but his trainer. J. R. Arnold, says he came from Pennsylvania, where he was formerly kept in the stud. Sage P. is said to be a Michigan-bred trotter. He has been trained on the old Maspeth race track for a few weeks past, developing a fine turn of speed. Both horses are gaited right to beat 2:20 this season. Newshoy, 2:12%, won fa lot of money for his backers in the special sweepstakes race when the little dun gelding defeated Roscoe and Touch-me-not. Besides the main stakes, a side bet of $1,000 depended on the relative positions of Newsboy and Touch-me-not in the race. In the third heat Roscoe and Newsboy finished necks apart under a hard drive, both horses breaking just before they reached the wire. The judges rendered a bad decision by setting both of the contending horses cack and awarding the heat to Touch-me-not, who was three lengths in the rear. The same horses are to start again next week, at the Fleetwood meeting, for a sweepstakes of like amount.

Between heats William French drove upon the track with his road horse, and when ordered by the judges to leave the course he delayed doing so until the police were called in. French lost his flemper, and a lively set-to took place between him and the three or four bluecoats who sought to remove him. The judges fined French $100 for his breach of decorum. He is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and an old-time road rider on the Ocean Parkway. The first race yesterday was not started until 3 o'clock, and it was almost dark when the crowdisft the grounds. To-day's card includes the 2:16 trotting race, in which Wanda, Little Nance, Eastview, and other fast to neas are to measure stri

HE QUALIFIES FOR TWO INTER-COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

All Now in Order for the Big Annual Biruggle of the Students on Track and Field-Burke, the Athens Winner, Shows His Quality - Davison a Surprise The weeding-out process leading up to the lecisive stage of the intercollegiate games was completed at Manhattan Field yesterday after noon, and everything is now in order for the crucial test to-day. Little public interest was manifested in the preliminaries, and the competitors almost outnumbered the spectators Those who attended the trials, however, saw some interesting sport, though nothing of a sensational character transpired. Many of the opular favorites put in an appearance and did all that was required of them like past masters. Bernard J. Wefers the world's record holder, made his debut as an aspirant for intercollegiate honors, and he qualified for the two sprints without turning a hair. Another debutant in college colors was Thomas E. Burke, one of the Olympic victors. The Boston boy won his heat in the quarter without an effort. But perhaps the most interesting feature of the afternoon was the unexpected form shown by Davison of Rochester, who qualified in both the half and quarter mile runs with little breathing time in between. He is the same youth who won all the track events up to a mile at the State meet last week, and, although he is not con-sidered equal to the task of beating Burke in the quarter and Hollister in the half mile to day, he is pretty certain to make a bold bid for place honors in one if not both events. He is also entered for the one-mile run, and may elect to go for the triple event, as he seems to revel in the sport.

There was an extraordinary dearth of hurdlers, and out of the formidable list entered only eight answered the roll call in each event. The most noticeable absentee was Stephen Chase, the intercollegiate, national, and inter-Case, the intercollegiate, national, and international champion and holder of the high-hurdle record. The Dartmouth flyer broke down from an old injury after winning two New England championships last Saturday. The muster was so small that no heats were run off over the sticks yesterday. Of the eight left in the high hurdles five represent Yale, but Harvard holds the trump card in the low hurdles, for which J. L. Bremer, the record holder, is on hand.

holds the trump card in the low hurdles, for which J. L. Bremer, the record holder, is on hand.

The track trials were over quite early, but the field competitions dragged along until 6:30. The card is now reduced to such proportions, however, that an early wind-up is looked for to-day. Persistent attention and good drying weather have worked wonders with the path since the downpour on Thursday, and Harry Cornish thinks it will be in faultless shape when the sport is resumed to-day. Indeed, there was little fault to be found with it yesterday, and the infield was also in satisfactory order. Summaries:

One-hundred-yard Run-First heat won by Bernard J. Weifers, Georgeton I. W. J. Benhoim, Rarvard, second. Time, 10:50 seconds. Second heat won by J. T. Boeks, Jr. Harvard; J. F. Quillian, Fordam W. Scholl, Time, 10:50 seconds. Third heat won by Halph Derr, Frinceton, 97; H.S. Patter, had won by Halph Derr, Frinceton, 97; H.S. Patter, had won by H. W. Hedpath, Harvard; R. W. Hurnet, Yale, second, Time, 10:50 seconds.

Wefers won his heat by a wide margin and qualified like a sure winner. In the fourth trial Derr of Frinceton ran under protest, and a third man was placed as a precantionary measure. Burnett of Yale could have won the fifth heat, but allowed Hedpath to finish in front.

Half mile Run-First heat won by E. Hollister, Harvard; B. B. Huckley, Yale, second, E. Schaff, Colum-

Half-mile Run—First heat won by E. Hollister, Har vard; B. B. Hinckley, Yaie, second; A. E. Schaff, Colum bia, third; W. G. Petsch, Cornell, fourth, Time, 3 minutes 3 3-5 seconds. Second heat won by E. F. Davi son, Roonester; C. C. Sichel, Pennsylvania, second J. Bortiman, Harvard, third; E. N. Fenno, Jr., Harvard, tourid; E. N. Fenno, Jr., Harvard, tourid; E. N. Fenno, Jr., Harvard, Tourid, Time, 2 minutes 5 2-5 seconds. Hollister, last year's winner, turned up trained to a hair, and after letting the others in his heat make the running for a lap, he let out a link and won with a lot to spare. In the second heat Davison of Rochester apparently outclassed his rivals, and after waiting with them for 500 yards, he lengthened his stride a bit and won pretty much as he liked.

Cuarter nile Run-Errst heat won by J. H. Coffel.

Quarter mile Run-First heat won by J. H. Colfeit, Princeton '19; T. Fisher, Yale, second. Time, 50 8.5 seconds. Second heat won by Thomas E. Burke, Hoston University; F. P. Garran, Yale, second. H. H. Fish, Harvard, third, Time, 50 9.5 seconds. Third heat won by E. F. Davison, Rochester; S. K. Gerard, Yale, second. H. L. Taylor, Cornell, allowed in final on a foul. Time, 51 2.5 seconds.

second H. L. Taylor, Corneil, allowed in final on a foul. Time, 512-5 seconds.

The Nassau representative won the first heat after a punishing effort all the way. Hurke took matters sasily in the second heat, and only made his run in the stretch. Fish of Harvard was placed for the final as a precaution, Hurke being under protest. Davison turned out again for the third heat and showed no distress after his half-mile trial, although he had to extend himself to shake off Gerard of Yale. Taylor of Corneil was fouled and the referee allowed his claim to run in the final.

Two-hundred-and-twenty-yard Run-First heat won by J. R. Bowen. Corneil: L. W. Redpath. Harvard, second. Time, 24-5 seconds. Fourth heat won by F. V. Chappell, Vale. F. H. Rigelow, Harvard, second. Time, 24-5 seconds. Tomth heat won by F. V. Chappell, Vale. F. H. Rigelow, Harvard, second. Time, 24-4 seconds. Fourth heat won by H. S. Patterson, Williams: W. J. Denholm, Harvard, second. Time, 24-4 seconds.

Bowen Wefers, and Patterson won their respective heats in workmanlike style, especially Wefers, who had his med well in hand from start to finish. Chappell of Yale also won a heat, but will probably find the trio named too speedy for him in the final dust up. Throwing Sixteen pound Hammer-Five men quali-fied for the final as follows: W. Woodroff, Pennsyl-vania, 180 feet 64 inches: H. B. Cross, Yale, 129 feet 45 inches; C. Chadwick, Yale, 126 feet 10 theses; F. E. Smith, Brown, 125 feet; F. Shaw, Harvard, 134 feet 8 knith, Brown, 125 feet; F. Shaw, Harvard, 134 feet 8

Woodruff occasioned some surprise by sending the missile over a foot beyond the best mark made by Cross. The latter may, however, have kept allttle in reserve, but it did not look so. All those qualified showed good form. Pole Vault for Height-Five men qualified for the final as follows O. E. Smith Columbia; W. A. Stewart, Fennsylvania; F. W. Allis and W. E. Selim, Vale, cleared 10 feet 7 inches each; C. T. Van Winkle, Yale, cleared 10 feet 7 inches

Originally there were six men picked, as, after the four 10 feet? inch performers were through, W. A. Whyatt, Wesleyan, and C. T. Van Winskie, Yale, tied at 10 feet 4 inches. A strong protest from Pennsylvania led to a further trial between the pair, and Whyatt falled to hold his Yale rival.

Running Broad Jump—Five men qualified for the final as follows: L. P. Sheldon, Vale, M.I feet S Inches: R. Mitchell, Vale, M.I feet & Inches; C. T. Buchoits, Pennsylvania, 20 feet 104 Inches; N. J. H jur, Columbia, 30 feet 10 Inches; F. Mason, Harvard, 20 feet 10 Inches Sheldon showed up in capital trim and could probably have covered more ground if necessary. The five left in are well bunched and should furnish an interesting competition. Putting Sixteen-pound Shot-Five men qualified for the final as follows: R. Sheiden, Yaie, 41 feet 114 inches: W. Woodruff, Pennsylvania, 41 feet; F. E. Smith, Brown, 38 feet 854 Inches: A. A. Knipe, Penn sylvania, 88 feet 4 inches: A. Brown, Yale, 38 feet 38 inches.

Young Sheldon and Woodruff performed well up to their best private work, but Knipe was disappointing. Brown of Yale competed under physical difficulties, but contrived to aqueeze into the qualifying bunch. Running High Jump Five men qualified for the final as follows: C. M. Powell, Cornell; W. E. Put-nam, Jr., Harvard, J. S., Winsor, Pennsylvania, and Craighead, Washington and Jefferson cleared 5 feet 11 inches each; F. A. McComber, Brown, cleared 5 feet 10 inches.

The unusual number of eight men got over a feet 10 inches after a threaome session. Four failed next time and had to jump off for the odd place. McComber proved the best stayer and got into the final.
